Dr. Harald Krebs. School of Music Head of Theory, presents
Robert Redeemed: The Beauty of Schumann’s Late Songs
Robert Schumann’s late works have often been maligned as the products of a composer whose creative powers had declined as a result of mental illness—an assessment that stems from misunderstandings of Schumann’s biography and of the music itself. Both through commentary and live performance focusing on the Lied genre, this lecture will demonstrate that Schumann’s unique voice continued to sing during his last years. With Sharon Krebs, soprano (Free Admission)
